

Six acres with versatile residence

Resting on six serene acres, this residence is rich in character and potential. A bull nose verandah creates a warm welcome to the idyllic rural setting that forms the backdrop of this expansive home. Interiors are in good condition and ready for a modern refresh to add value and maximise the space. The formal lounge room leads into a timber kitchen awash with natural light from several skylights. A large rumpus boasts a stately fireplace and there is a sizeable study.

Slate tiles in the enclosed entertaining area visually connect with the natural landscape. It's a versatile room for all weather entertaining and comes with a built-in bench with room for a barbecue. With approximately half of the land arable, and a creek and bushland for children to discover, this is a brilliant property for a family to create their own sanctuary.
